

I was planning my parent's 50th wedding anniversary party (July 5/14) and looking for entertainment of some sort. I had considered a guitarist or a band but am so pleased that I went with Dr. J.

He was very accommodating and even changed his weekend plans for my parent's party. They live in country but that didn't deter him. He arrived an hour ahead of schedule and quietly and efficiently set up his equipment. I was so impressed that while we were eating he was playing music and then he continued on into the night. He was able to gage the guests and had them up dancing most of the night. He was wonderful and even at one point jumped in to act as our photographer when we needed some group photos! He has a great selection of music.

He is so kind and courteous and very talented. I would very much recommend him for a future private party.

Thanks again
